7 times a day?

We have learned
so very much more about life's erratic patterns from the years of loving and hating you – scorning, protesting,
embracing and understanding your natural (but sometimes forced) day to day rhythm –
than we could have
in a lifetime of private, affluent, sectarian institutions in which one is taught about life by mirror images of oneself.
A sincere thank you to every individual who made us individuals.
We are strong now to face tomorrow only because you were part of our lives.

–Toniwynn

It's gone now
forever,
happily?

Good-byes remain only as echoes.

This present instant
and tomorrows
are left . . .

. . . for now
we have time
to relive all of yesterday's yesterdays.

And frightened we stand alone facing an abyssmal future, wondering if all the times will be remembered
but then . . .

I cringe at the thought of those things already forgotten!

—Barb Chase

Let me hear no man cry for peace in the world if he be not at peace with his own mind

Let me hear no man say that he understands another if he understands not himself

Let me hear no man cry for reform if he be not willing to reform himself

Let no man speak of loving another if he loves not himself

Let no man speak of searching for truth if he be not truthful to himself

Let me hear no man speak of being educated if he be not learned by experience

Let no man speak of having faith if he believes not in himself

Let no man speak of having freedom if he be not responsible

Let me hear no man speak who does not listen.

In Memoriam

CHARLENE HAWTHORNE

Life Eternal! — How shall I express my thought of it? It is not mere existence, however prolonged and free from annoyance. It is not the pleasures of the senses, however vivid. It is not peace. It is not happiness. It is not joy. But it is all these combined into one condition of spiritual perfection — one emotion of indescribable rapture — the peace after the storm has gone by, the soft repose after the grief is over, the joy of victory when the conflict is ended.

DESIDERATA

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant — they too have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the Universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the Universe is unfolding as it should.

Whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of Life keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Old St. Paul's Church
Baltimore, Maryland

“You may aid the man, you may guide him, and above all, you may inspire him; but the only thing that is worth having is what he gets by his own exertions, and what he gets is proportionate to the effort he puts into it.”
